Babenek, Havener show grand, supreme 4-H champions

James Babenek showed the Grand Champion steer and Tim Havener showed the Supreme Champion Female at Elk Point 4-H Beef Club's 1994 Achievement Day, June 4 at the Elk Point Fairgrounds Show Barn.

Conformation Judge Lorne Bodell of Sherwood Park picked Babenek's big Limousin steer from a ring of eleven competitors to receive the Elk Point Co-op trophy. Claudia Naber's steer was the Reserve Champion, receiving a trophy from Lakeland Meat Processors.

The 4-Hers were earlier judged on Grooming by Flossie Bodell, who then judged their Showmanship techniques during the Conformation class. Robyn Danyluk received the Elk Point Insurance and Realty trophy for Senior Grooming, while her brother Peter received the Junior trophy from Home Town Grocers. Two sisters swept the Showmanship, with Dorothea Naber taking Senior honors and Claudia Naber the Junior win, both for trophy halters donated by the Orr family in memory of Clayton Orr.

Learning to judge beef cattle is part of the 4-H program. This year's Judging Competition winners were David Naber, taking home the Lloydminster Heavy Crude trophy for the Senior division, and Peter Danyluk, receiving the Phil's Hardware trophy for the Junior Judging. Runners-up were Robyn Danyluk in the Senior group and Claudia Naber in the Junior.

David Yuschyshyn was presented with a handsome tack box by Ruth Stone, representing the North East Alberta Beef Breeders, for his helpful attitude at the show. Yushyshyn, along with Taralee Babenek, Amanda Wirsta, Tim Havener, and Bruce Smith, also showed steers in the competition.

Moving to the Heifer Class, Peter Danyluk took home the Grand Championship trophy from Wozniak Bulk Sales for his yearling, which later earned him the Reserve Supreme Female award from Woody's Trophy and Gift Shop. He later showed his Cow-Calf pair for a Reserve Champion trophy, courtesy of Dave's Pizza, and put the three animals

Canada Day breakfast in jeopardy

The Elk Point Chamber of Commerce's long standing tradition of hosting a pancake breakfast on Canada Day may be in jeopardy unless a chairman to organize the event is found in the very near future.

The event's previous co-chairmen, who have spearheaded the event for the past several years, are both unavailable this year due to other commitments.

Finding workers for the event is not a problem - five volunteers to cook and serve were forthcoming at last Wednesday's meeting, and one of the previous co-chairs is willing to help with ordering supplies and other advance planning.

What is needed now is one or two persons who can commit themselves to such tasks as picking up and returning grills, gathering the supplies and attending to last minute details. Use of a pickup truck would be helpful. If you can volunteer to help out in this way, please call Victor Stepa at 724-3926 or Dave Yake at 724-4200. If no chairman is found, the breakfast will most likely have to be cancelled.

The Chamber welcomed recently arrived RCMP Sergeant John Humphrey at that meeting. Humphrey will be moving his family here from St. Paul in the near future, and says he is happy with the prospect of living and working in Elk Point.

Chamber President Victor Stepa reported that he had visited all the new businesses and delivered complimentary memberships to each of the five.

The Economic Development Committee have scheduled a meeting with a representative of the NADC for a followup on the Reverse Trade Show.

Results of the Downtown Beautification Project are becoming evident, with planters moved and showing signs of green. The Chamber was informed that the intersection of 50 Ave. and Railway Ave.,

at the east end of town, is in

Seniors' Week proclaimed

Whereas, seniors are making many contributions to strengthen our province, enhancing our daily lives and our society; and

Whereas, seniors are a vital part of our families, sharing generously of their wisdom, experience and love;

Whereas, more seniors are independent and active and, by challenging the stereotypes of aging, are leading the way for future seniors;

Whereas, seniors have many different lifestyles, backgrounds and cultures;

Whereas, a more positive attitude toward aging is creating new opportunities for seniors;

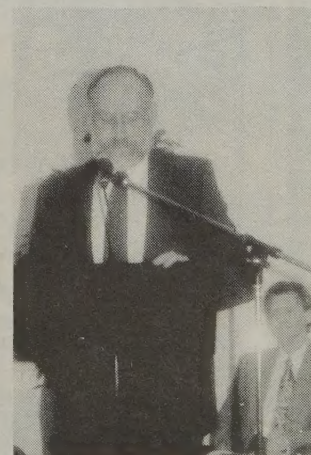

Whereas, we honor seniors for their skills, knowledge and leadership; and

Whereas, it is appropriate a special week be set aside to celebrate with seniors;

Now, therefore, I do hereby proclaim the week of June 5 through June 11, 1994 to be "Seniors Week" in Elk Point. I call upon all Elk Point and district residents to join in the celebration of Seniors Week.

PROCLAMATION - Seniors Week in Elk Point was proclaimed by Deputy Mayor Vern King.

Advisory council needs members Farmers' Day - June 10

Elk Point's Interagency Committee has formed a sub-group which is seeking volunteer members for a Community Advisory Council which will work with the Elk Point RCMP Detachment in Elk Point and surrounding districts.

Cst. Pat Wasylynuk told a meeting of the subcommittee last week that the Advisory Council will be "working together to make a safer, more responsible community to reside in." By opening up lines of communication between residents and RCMP, he hopes "to make [law enforcement] a partnership."

Cst. Wasylynuk gave an overview of the activities of a similar council set up recently in Fishing Lake which has found a lot of community support and is helping greatly to provide feedback to the Detachment from the community as well as helping the RCMP determine their service strategies.

He hopes the Elk Point and district Advisory Council will be made up of "a multitude of different interest groups," including the elderly, youth, ethnic groups, Chamber of Commerce and industries, and that it will be "an ongoing committee that can assist for years to come."

The sub-group will be looking for interested volunteers to come forth over the summer, so that in September, approximately nine members will be ready to get to work outlining their mandate and deciding how the Council will work. A meeting has been set for September 7. Any members of the public interested in becoming part of the Council can contact the Cst. Wasylynuk at 724-3829.

desperate need of traffic control signage to reduce chances of an accident. The Town has now been made aware of this deficiency.

Although fifteen members, or approximately one third of the total membership, were in attendance, the Chamber was asked, "Why don't the other members attend?" This member, who also had not attended for some time until very recently, said meetings were "more interesting" than they had been in the past, and encouraged others to come out and see for themselves.

Seniors: a strength for the family

We often get so caught up in our day-to-day activities... that we tend to forget about the past and the strength and effort it took to get us where we are today. Seniors Week is an opportunity to recognize the enormous contributions made by seniors to strengthen our families, our community and our province as a whole.

The theme of Seniors Week is "Seniors, A Strength for the Family" in recognition of the International Year of the Family. We are fortunate to have 230,550 seniors living in our province, and it is easy to see how older Albertans make our province stronger.

Seniors have a wealth of experience. They are active as business people, entertainers, writers, teachers and in dozens of other endeavors.

Older people are a vital part of our families. They provide emotional support and advice, financial support and often help out with babysitting, housework and yard work.

Many seniors are active volunteers working to help Albertans of all ages. Many participate in programs for seniors such as Meals-on-Wheels, senior citizens' clubs and centres and educational courses.

The vast majority of seniors are healthy and living in their own homes. More and more seniors are independent and active.

Seniors have a wide array of interests, skills and backgrounds. There are hundreds of interesting and talented senior citizens in communities across the province.

Seniors Week is a wonderful opportunity for Albertans of all ages to meet and learn more about seniors. It is a time to keep older people in touch with youth and to acquaint young people with older adults. It is also an opportunity to honor seniors for their contributions to the past and future of our province.

Everyone is invited to take part in the many activities during Seniors Week, June 5 to 11.

INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE FAMILY

TIDBITS

We lead by example... and by monitoring... and by trusting... and by being trusted. We fail from time to time - both the leader and those who are following the leader's vision. So we have to be tolerant of one another, exhibit humanity, be trusting of those who have earned our trust and... oh, yes... be honest (but not necessarily brutally so) with one another.

- Glen E. Grady

We learn from experience. You'll never see a parent waking up the second baby just to see it smile.

Don't live in the past. No matter how good everything was in the past, the future is still a dream - with who knows what great possibilities.

Seniors, it's your week!

Seniors Week is well underway, with an open house and art and craft exhibit at Heritage Lodge on Sunday, the signing of the Seniors Week Proclamation and a community worship service Sunday evening. Yesterday, the 50th anniversary of D-Day, saw Heritage Lodge residents treated to a special viewing of collectibles and crafts at "In Days of Olde," while hospital residents gathered for a wheelchair parade to "Northbound 41" for ice cream.

There are still five days of Seniors Week left to enjoy. Here are some of the activities which will be taking place:

Tues. June 7 - A free day to take up a hobby... try out some birdwatching... adopt a grandparent... treat your favorite senior to lunch... and celebrate Seniors Week in your own special way.

Wed. June 8 - Have a spitting good time at the Elk Point Hospital's "Watermelon Seed Spitting Contest," scheduled for 10:30 a.m. sharp.

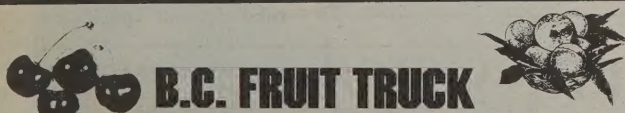

At 12:00 noon, the Elk Point Elementary School's Grade 6 classes will be treated to a special Pancake and Sausage Lunch, courtesy of the Pioneer Circle Society, at the Seniors Recreation Centre. This will be followed by a "What It It?" contest, with a number of historical artifacts on display, courtesy of Steve Andrishak. Come out and try to identify as many as possible.

Thurs. June 9 - Another free day, to visit your favorite person, have a storytelling contest, share a pioneer recipe. Seniors over 55 might go to a youth ball game, and come out and enjoy a free coffee or tea at "In Days Of Olde."

Fri. June 10 - Dress for a wet and wild time at the Elk Point Hospital "Water Balloon Throw." Teams of two will compete to see who can stay the driest. Everyone is invited! There will be entertainment by the hospital staff for residents in recognition of Seniors Week.

Sat. June 11 - FREE DAY FINALE! Go for a walk with your favorite senior, challenge a senior to a game of cribbage, go on a picnic, watch an old time movie, and celebrate Seniors Week in your own special way.

Have a very special week, Seniors!

Our Past

By Steve Andrishak

Early pioneer homes

Pioneer homes generally weren't built with beauty in mind. Seldom did you see two homes that looked alike. Their main purpose was to provide a shelter.

Most of the early homes were poorly insulated and very cold during the winter months.

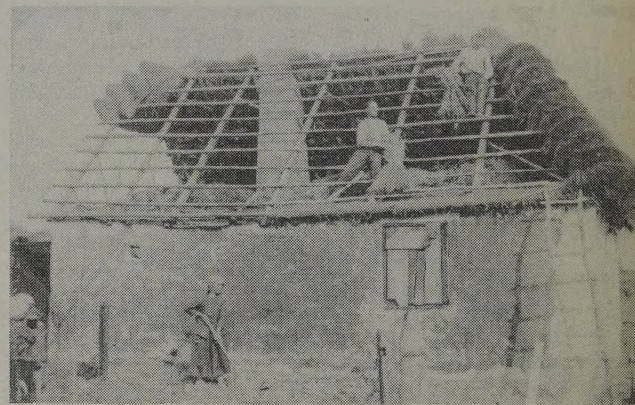

In many cases, pioneer homes were built small and additions were added on as the family increased.

Today, very few of these pioneer homes are still standing. Slowly they deteriorated over the years and were either torn down or destroyed by fires to make room for a modern type of home.

Lucille Ball was the first lady of American comedy. Some time before her death she did a remarkable television interview with Merv Griffin, who asked her a very pointed and serious question. "Lucille, you've lived a long time on this earth and you are a wise person. What happened to our country? What's wrong with our children? Why are our families falling apart? What's missing?"

Lucy's startling yet matter-of-fact reply came quickly. "Papa's missing," she said... ("Where's Dad?," Weldon Hardenbrook)

Where's Dad? Does this comment expect too much from fathers? Does our society demand that a survivor of an ill-fated planet Krypton, with super strength and ability (not to mention x-ray vision) parachute onto our planet and reproduce himself in every home? Do we need "supermen" to qualify as fathers? Answer: Yes! But not the way you think. Supermen today are often:

Super-playboys - with no control or loyalty to their wives and children;

Super-hobbyists - with a better relationship to their hobby than to their family;

Super-soldiers - that make things happen with harshness and rudeness;

Super-workers - that find more satisfaction at work than at home; and Super-confused - that think there's a female inside that male body.

Supermen are none of the above. Dr. Stephen Covey in his book, Seven Habits of Highly Successful People, draws some interesting conclusions. He says that for 50 years, social sciences have attempted to fix our lives through superficial techniques, self-esteem and image improvement. His conclusions are that what we need is character. Character means things like "integrity, humility, fidelity, temperance, courage, justice, patience, industry, simplicity, modesty and the Golden Rule" (Covey).

Supermen are men of character. Anyone can father a child; but only men of character can be a child's father.

The heroes of Heinburg High

"A Hero Lies In Us" was the theme chosen by Heinburg High School's Class of 1994 for their Farewell Ceremonies last Friday, June 3, when families and friends gathered to wish them all the best as they complete their high school years.

The evening started with a banquet at Heinburg Community Hall, with grace by Mrs. Terry Fleming. Kirsten Sanders toasted the parents, noting that she and her classmates "have striven to achieve, and with our parents' help, we have succeeded." Her mother, Else Sanders, replied to the "strong and special group," advising them to use the skills their academic and sports training have taught them: "commit yourselves... set goals... be the best you can be... enjoy what you are doing."

David Daniels toasted the staff, "the most underappreciated people in our lives," with a reply from Mrs. Sandra Bishop, who reminded the class that "teachers aren't always right, but we always have your interests at heart. Go into the world with confidence."

Bridgette Tucker, Darin McCollum and Darren Skolarchuk offered a humorous and heartfelt toast to the Class of '94.

The scene then moved to the Heinburg Community School Gym for the Farewell Ceremonies. Shannon Leskiw was the MC for both banquet and ceremonies.

The eight members of the Class of '94 - Rosalie Bristow, David Daniels, Glenna Dion, Steven Fryingpan, Darren Kinch, Kirsten Sanders, Lily Thomson and Lorraine Waskahat - entered the gym in a storm of camera flashes and applause to take their seats on stage. Sheri Durnin played O Canada.

Glenna Dion gave the invocation, asking her classmates to "take the future one day at a time. Good luck with your lives."

Student Council President Darin McCollum offered congratulations on behalf of the student body.

MP Deborah Grey, who has watched these fine young people grow up and remembers some of them from her teaching days at Frog Lake, told the class that "You people ARE heroes tonight. Go forward and prove it to the rest of the world." To be a hero to others, she continued, "make sure to learn... to laugh... and to love... whenever you're a hero but mess up, they'll still love you anyway. We love you and stand behind you."

MLA Paul Langevin brought greetings from the Legislature at this "time to celebrate and be happy." He advised them to remember their values, and to be proud to be from Heinburg School. "A small school becomes a big family and teaches you special values."

The Valedictorian's Address was given by Lily Thomson, who told of the journey through school since the parents of these students started them off in kindergarten and Grade 1. "They have been there all along the way, and picked us up when we fell, and brushed us off." In Junior High, she noted, "the terrain changed, and we learned to love our enemies... they're our friends now." In Senior High, some classmates took different paths. Miss Thomson herself has "learned a tremendous lot in the past three years, not just from books, but about myself. I learned that we can't control things around us, but we can control our reaction to them." Now, the class has arrived at "the top of the mountain. We now can see much more of the horizon... Our parents must learn that we can pick ourselves up now, after all, there is a hero in each one of us."

This sentiment was echoed by soloist Audrey Rainey, who sang "A Hero Lies In You."

The special Heinburg tradition of Passing of the Colors was carried out by Kirsten Sanders, who passed the framed scroll to Grade 11 student Tanya Fayant.

Michelle Flamond represented the Northlands School Division, and offered words of encouragement as she presented a gift to David Daniels, along with thanks from the Fishing Lake community "for being a strong role model."

Remarks on the graduands, giving a thoughtful, reminiscent and witty look at each member of the class, were given by Parrish Tung and Adrian Kiss, along with predictions for the future.

Lorraine Waskahat offered a poem, "We'll Never Say Goodbye."

County School Board representative Bob Smith presented scrolls to each grad, while MP Grey and MLA Langevin also made presentations. Smith said that Heinburg is "proud to be known as a family school and always will be." He told the grads that "The world doesn't owe you a living, but it does owe you a chance."

Band Council member Peter Waskahat brought congratulations from the Frog Lake Band, and thanked Heinburg's staff and school board for the way they have treated students from Frog Lake over the years. He has had children attending the school for a number of years with "no problems. I never came to school to complain." Waskahat said he himself cannot read or write, and found it "hard to do things. When I first dealt with white society, I couldn't even speak English." He is now a resource person, and "this is my job - to speak. I am glad for the grads taking their first step into the world. They have the chance to make something of themselves." Waskahat feels "it is time now that aboriginal and white people should understand each other and work together. It's up to us to change things. It doesn't matter who we are, we are all God's children."

The evening's guest speaker was former Heinburg principal Laverne Wilson, who said these students have anticipated their graduation day "ever since their ECS grad." The Class of '94 is unique, he noted, in that four of its members are the youngest children in their families, three are middle children and only one is the oldest. In this International Year of the Family, he noted that "families are essential to

Auto show a shining success

Elk Point Auto Club's 1994 Show and Shine featured 28 gleaming examples of the artistry of the automaker's art, lovingly restored, in some cases glorified by modifications, and polished to their finest potential for viewing by a sizeable and admiring audience.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE - Larry Nordquist's black 1930 Model A Ford was well worth a second look. This Lloydminster beauty topped the votes to win the Best of Show.

CREAM OF THE CROP - A cream and black 1929 Ford Convertible Pickup tied for Oldest Vehicle with the 1929 Essex sedan right beside it.

WALL TO WALL WINNERS - collected their trophies at the conclusion of Elk Point Auto Club's Show and Shine.

Each viewer was handed a ballot on which to list their favorite vehicle for a series of awards. Choosing the best was far from easy with this selection to choose from.

At the conclusion of the show, the ballots were counted up and trophies presented. Overall winner of the Art Southworth Memorial People's Choice plaque was Larry Nordquist of Lloydminster, whose glittering black 1930 Model A Ford had a modified interior complete with lighting. This vehicle also won the Modified trophy, donated by Northern Valley Store. Second place in the Modified category went to Maurice Lessard of Bonnyville, who displayed a sparkling white 1980 GMC pickup.

Larry and Lil Demchuk added another trophy to their collection in the Antique category, winning the Dan's Auto Body award for first place with their perennial favorite 1933 Ford Roadster. Ron and Sharon Smith's 1944 Ford 3-ton, green with cream trim and a wood stake box, placed second for the Mystery Man trophy.

Mercury was the name of the game in the Truck category. Brian Blanchard of Bonnyville displayed his burgundy 1963 model for the first place trophy from Quality Tools, while Gordon and Linda Long of Edmonton took home second place trophy from B & D Industrial for their cream, raspberry and burgundy 1956 model. The Longs also received a plaque from Ken Astill and family for coming the furthest distance to the show.

This year, Antiques were divided into two age groups. In the Post 1960 division, another Edmonton entry, a steel grey 1964 Ford Galaxie hardtop owned by Wayne Driscoll took the honors for the Lee-way Heavy Oil trophy, while Richard Meyenberg's orange '68 Camaro came second for the West Side Muffler trophy.

As many of us recall, 1957 was a pretty good year - especially for the makers of exceptionally attractive cars. Gunther May's deep burgundy '57 Chevy was honored once again, winning the Show category trophy from Woody's Trophy and Gift, while Murray and Donna Dando of Bonnyville brought down their eye-catching lilac and black '57 Mercury Montclair for the second place trophy, donated by Ready Gun Works.

Another '57 - this time a beautiful baby blue '57 Ford Skyliner with a unique fold-away hardtop, owned by John and Yvonne Pare of Edmonton, won the Convertible category trophy sponsored by Elk Point Insurance and Realty. Second place, with a trophy from Tom Cat Trucking, went to G. Gilderman of Lloydminster, who exhibited a cream 1966 Mustang.

The Oldest Vehicle award resulted in a tie, with plaques from Elk Point Auto Club going to both Don Maltais of St. Paul, who showed his 1929 Essex, and Ted White, who showed a cream colored 1929 Ford convertible pickup.

Following the show, a number of the vehicles took a tour of the town, before returning to the arena for a barbecue.

BABY BLUE AND BEAUTIFUL - This 1957 Ford Skyliner with fold-away hardtop won the Convertibles trophy for John and Yvonne Pare, Edmonton.

BLUE RIBBON MERCURY - This three-toned 1956 Mercury truck came all the way from Edmonton to win second prize in the Truck division for owners Linda and Gordon Long.

An era ends in Heinsburg

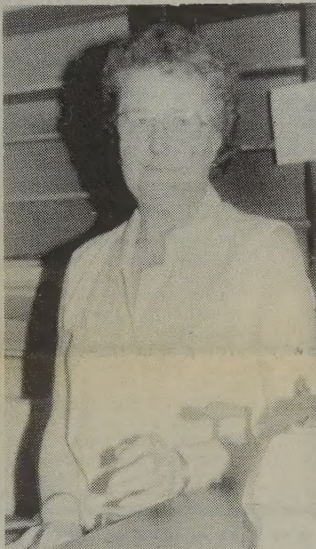

A business which took a lifetime to build up took only a few hours to disperse last Saturday, as hordes of antique collectors, souvenir hunters and those in search of a bargain converged on Heinsburg for the auction sale of merchandise and fixtures from Gregor's Lucky Dollar store, just two days short of 65 years after Rudolf Gregor opened its doors for the first time.

Gregor's was one of the last old-fashioned general stores in the region, selling everything from lamp chimneys and boot laces to cornflakes and chocolate bars for the past 65 years. Alice Gregor, who started working in the store with her late father when she was twelve, was here, there and everywhere during the sale, greeting numerous friends who came to Heinsburg especially for the event. She was one of six children in the family business, and the only one who stayed to take over increasing amount of its operation as her father got older. When he passed away in 1991 at the age of 98, she took over the business.

Gregor's was the last retail business operating in downtown Heinsburg. Now all that remains to bring area residents to Main Street is the post office, across the street and one building south of the newly closed store. However, it was not always so. Many longtime residents remember the community in its busy years, when there were other stores, a garage, a lumberyard and a hotel, as well as frequent train service.

Just a few years ago, two Main Street stores were kept busy by local patrons, and you could still buy fence posts and sell animal hides without leaving the community. Now, business is centred on two modern general stores and gas stations along the highway, as the downtown buildings become ever more grey and frail with age.

For a few hours last Saturday, the people were backed traffic jams, double parking and a huge crowd which did as much visiting as buying, not too much different from the days when Heinsburg was a vibrant community. Regrettably, though, this time, it was to mark the end of an era, the final chapter in downtown Heinsburg's story of a once-bustling business district.

ALICE GREGOR - looks back on a long career in retail business.

HEINSBURG MAIN STREET JAMMED WITH SHOPPERS - as the remaining stock of Gregor's Lucky Dollar Store went under the auctioneer's gavel last Saturday.

Recycle those toys and baby equipment

What to do with all those toys and baby equipment that your growing family no longer needs is a problem to many families in the Elk Point area. One mom with a supply of outgrown items is Juanita Buck, who came up with the idea of a community-wide used toy and baby equipment sale.

The sale will take place in the Community Services Centre gym on Saturday, June 11. Consignors must bring toys and equipment in between 7:30 and 9:30 a.m., with each item labeled with the family name and price. The items will be placed in separate sections as to type of toy or equipment for ease of shopping. When shoppers take items to the cashier, the price tags will be removed in order to pay the consignors the correct amount. Consignors are responsible to come back when the sale ends at 5:00 p.m. to pick up unsold items and their sale proceeds. The cost of the gym rental and advertising will be divided up among the consignors.

The sale also has a trade component. If you wish to trade items, Ms Buck says "you will have to work it out between yourselves" by contacting the other consignor. Most families will have representatives at the sale.

For further information, call Juanita at 724-4491.

Protecting the environment... it's within our power!

Governments, corporations and individuals all have a role to play in preserving our environment for future generations. This commitment requires investing in "clean" technology, learning about local environmental conditions and simply living our everyday lives in an environmentally responsible manner. Working together, we can make all the difference in the world!

building a strong community and a strong school." He told the grads that their families' acceptance and tolerance "has got you this far... continue to assist and contribute, and always be your family's hero. A hero is a person noted for their special achievements - we don't stop here." He presented each with a Year of the Family pin.

Rosalie Bristow presented gifts to Mr. Wilson and Mr. Leskiw, and flowers to grad advisor Marie Zayac.

Principal Lorne Young found his part of the ceremonies "a little strange - this was Laverne's spot, and he left a tough set of shoes to fill." Young called Heinsburg "a family school in every sense of the word. This event shows the rest of the world what makes Heinsburg so special. The students, the parents, the communities of Heinsburg, Frog Lake and Fishing Lake, give us our unique nature. They give us a lot of leeway and let us do our job. We are a family, and I'm very proud of this family," he concluded.

As the grad class prepared for their recession, accompanied by Daleen Gunderson singing "It's Never Easy To Say Goodbye," MC Leskiw declared it "time for jubilation and celebration. Look out world, here comes Heinsburg's Class of '94!"

won the High School County Cup girls' fastball championship by downing the Regional Saints 19-9 in five innings Wednesday in Heinsburg, despite the fact the Crusaders neither had a coach or a practice before the tournament.

"We all played well together," said Amy Hawkins, a Grade 12 student who helped form the team. "With no practice or no coach, that's why it's so surprising."

Tanya McLaughlin got the win for F. G. Miller.

The Saints were hurt by the fact their starting pitcher, Brandi Leroux, developed arm troubles in the previous games and couldn't pitch in the finals.

Librarian

The Summer Reading Program starts at the beginning of July. Diane Mudryk will be accepting registrations for the program, starting June 10. There is a fee of $1 per child to help offset expenses. Sessions will run on Tuesdays for the older kids and Fridays for the younger. So saddle up and join the Reading Rodeo.

A thank you goes out to the Elk Point Oilmen's Association for their donation of $500 to the library. Part of this money will go toward adding to the library's video collection.

The Friends of the Library closed out their fiscal year with a donation to the library of over $6600. Thanks to all those who worked bingos in the past and continue to volunteer. The library is richer for it (no pun intended).

Local history buffs might want to check out some recent donations to the library: Ever To Excel - The History of Lakeland College and the first two volumes of Alberta in the 20th Century. All are available for loan.

NEW IN FICTION

John Grisham fans, the wait is over. His latest legal thriller, The Chamber, has just arrived at the library. I haven't read it yet, but it looks like it has all the earmarks of Grisham's earlier works. This time a young lawyer asks to work on a case involving a Klan member on death row. Will he be in time to save the man's life? Why does the lawyer want to work on the case in the first place? Enquiring minds want to know.

LIBRARY CALENDAR

Friday, June 24: FUN! FUN! FUN! - Storytime will be holding a beach party before it breaks for the summer. Kids are asked to wear their bathing suits and bring a towel, a change of clothes and any beach toys (beach balls, frisbees, etc.) A word to parents: If the weather is nice, the party will be held outside and water will be involved.

DID YOU KNOW:

The YMCA (Young Men's Christian Association) was organized in London on June 6, 1844. One hundred years later a lot of young men stormed the beaches of Normandy as part of the D-Day invasion.
